

LICENSING TERMS

DINAMO TYPEFACES

Riehenstrasse 90, 4058 Basel, Switzerland
End User License Agreement for Font Software
Version 1.7 – July 2020

OPENING

This is an agreement between you, the Licensee (or “License Owner”) and Dinamo GmbH (hereafter “Dinamo”). By purchasing, or downloading, or installing, or using, or otherwise handling digital typeface software (hereafter “Fonts”) by Dinamo, both the purchaser and the License Owner accept this agreement and acknowledge that they understand and comply with its terms. If you are not the License Owner yourself but act as a payment facilitator or purchaser of the Fonts on behalf of the License Owner, you have to ensure that the License Owner accepts and complies with this exact EULA.

Acquiring a License from Dinamo grants the License Owner the right to use specified Fonts as part of designed content produced and published under the name of, or on the behalf of, the License Owner, and on specified types of media. The design work might be produced by the License Owner or a Designer on behalf of the License Owner.

By obtaining a License, the License Owner does not purchase the copyright of the design or any other part of the Fonts, other than the non-exclusive, non-transferable right to use the Fonts for the use cases specified in this agreement, according to the License Owner's provided specifications. All other use cases other than the specified ones require an additional License.

DEFINITIONS

- × Typeface is the collective name of a family of related Fonts.
- × Fonts are the digital files organized in weights, widths, and styles that together constitute a Typeface.
- × License is the permission to use a Typeface on specified type of media.
- × Licensee/License Owner/Client is the entity that commissions the design work in which the typeface is used. This entity pays for and owns the License. Hereafter the “License Owner.”
- × Company Size is the total amount of staff working for the organization of the License Owner.
- × License Tier is the size of a License, determined by the License Owner's company size
- × Design Agency/Designer/Design Studio is the entity that provides the design service to the License Owner. Hereafter “Designer.”
- × Subcontractor means the third party using the Fonts on behalf of the License Owner. The Designer is a Subcontractor of the License Owner.

LICENSE OWNER AND DESIGNER RELATIONSHIP

DESIGNER ≠ LICENSE OWNER. CLIENT = LICENSE OWNER

We believe that the Typeface License should be owned and also paid for by the company for which the Fonts are being use. With this understanding, a Designer can be the facilitator, the purchaser, or the user of a Font License. A Designer may purchase a Typeface License on behalf of a Client, but it is the Client who is the owner of that License.

The logo for Dinamo, featuring the word "DINAMO" in a bold, red, stylized sans-serif font. The letters are thick and blocky, with a distinctive design where the 'i' and 'n' have circular cutouts, and the 'A' is a solid triangle. The 'm' and 'o' also have circular cutouts.

Only in the case that Designer and Client are the same legal entity can a Designer purchase and own a Font License.

LICENSE OWNERS, DESIGNERS, AND SUBCONTRACTORS

- × A Designer can not purchase a Typeface License on behalf of one Client and use it for another. Different entities commissioning a Designer must have their own, separate Font Licenses according to the specific use cases of their brands.
- × As a License Owner, your Font License covers your own company and one initial Subcontractor.
- × Licensed Fonts must only be used within the organization of the License Owner and that one initial Subcontractor working for the License Owner. If the License Owner employs any further third parties or self-employed or temporary freelancers, or stops working with the initial Subcontractor to continue with a different Subcontractor, a separate Subcontractor Add-on is necessary to cover the use of Fonts by those parties during their working relationship.

PRICING & LICENSE METRICS

- × All “Limited Licenses” fees are one-time fees.
- × The prices of the different Print, Website, and Mobile App Licenses are all based on the same, sole metric: the Company Size of the License Owner. In turn this means that the price of a license is not based on how many people actually access the font files.
- × For use on Social Media, the price is based on the number of followers across all channels.

UPGRADING LICENSES

- × “Limited Licenses” have to be upgraded once your metrics (your Company Size or number of followers) increase. You can add licenses or upgrade the metrics of previously purchased licenses any time via your customer panel.
- × If you purchased an “Unlimited License,” you won’t have to ever upgrade your License.

Place of jurisdiction is Basel, Switzerland.
- × The invalidity or inoperativeness of one or more provisions of this contract does not affect the validity of the rest of the contract and the remaining other provisions shall thereby remain unaffected. - × This agreement is not governed by the "United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods."
